

Passionate about education

Tribal member Carly Lincoln hopes to inspire others

By Catherine
Lutz Weber

As a top professional in her field, Carly Lincoln hopes that sharing her story will inspire others to realize that education has infinite learning opportunities.

A young and energetic member of the Lincoln Tribe and Young Women's U.S.A., Carly is being awarded the award for being the most successful in her field in 20 years old.

Carly is being called a success story. Last February, Lincoln won the top honor, being named the Best of the Best while getting the degree in Criminal Justice, with a concentration in Corrections and Probation Services. She had previously earned an Associate Degree in Criminal Justice from the U.S. and worked in a job for a few years and the personal experience needed to enter the profession. She noted that along with being fortunate professional goals, her goal is about continuing personal and professional development. "I read everything and enjoy learning about different things."

Lincoln's story helps people thinking about education. She explains Lincoln has been able to find a career out of an unexpected adult education class program. The program also helps with her criminal justice degree allowing a career path. For example, Carly said, she normally thought about a career when a criminal had been granted bail. She learned about and was able to find a way to go back to school.

Carly's a member of the Young Women's U.S.A. and Carly is continuing her education from work with biological and physical science classes under the direction of Dr. Mary Ann Long and students like her along her to work with biology, Singapore and New Zealand. She wants to give her experience to create more students and get the interest of the young people.

She is excited to go back to school and continue to bring her degree that will help her to work with and study about work.

Attending the Lincoln

High School making the decision to attend Lincoln's program was not an easy decision. Carly is grateful for the opportunity to go back to school and study something that will help her personally, while getting a personal degree.

"What I'm learning is why success is important," she said. "It is important to understand the importance of going to school and why it is important to go back to school."

The student made the decision to attend the Lincoln Tribe's Department of Education to help her with her criminal justice and biological and physical science classes and her job. Carly said she is happy to be able to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.

The program helps students like Carly to go back to school and study about work. Carly is excited to go back to school and study about work.

Carly Lincoln

Lincoln is continuing her education with the Lincoln Tribe's Department of Education. She is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.

A member of the Lincoln Tribe's Department of Education, Carly is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.

Lincoln is continuing her education with the Lincoln Tribe's Department of Education. She is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.

The Lincoln Tribe's Department of Education is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.

She is excited to go back to school and study about work. She is excited to go back to school and study about work.